NEW EVENTS FOR 2022

The haunted house in Hinsdale, NY is perhaps the most famous haunted house in the area. It has all of the elements of a good ghost story. A mysterious history, strange sightings, unexplainable events, and even an exorcism! The house was built in 1853, with land records dating back to the 1700's. With the land being on top of a hill and containing a water source, it was a perfect place for Native Americans to want to live. In fact, native artifacts have been discovered in the ground when doing renovations. Clara and Phil Dandy, along with their children, began living in the house in the early 1970s. During their time there, they were visited by many spirits. A priest from St. Bonaventure University was at the house more than once to perform an exorcism which worked for a while but as time went by the

About this event

Berkeley Plantation's history begins in 1619 when settlers observed the first official Thanksgiving in America. Berkeley's 1726 Georgian mansion is the birthplace of Benjamin Harrison V, signer of the Declaration of Independence and three times governor of Virginia. The estate is also the birthplace of William Henry Harrison, ninth president of the United States, and ancestral home of his grandson, Benjamin Harrison, the twenty-third president. During the Civil War, Berkeley was occupied by General George McClellan's Union troops. While at Berkeley, General Daniel Butterfield composed the familiar tune "Taps," first played by his bugler, O.W. Norton. John Jamieson, a drummer boy with McClellan's forces, returned to Berkeley in 1907 and purchased the house and 1400 acres. His son, Malcolm, and his wife, Grace, are responsible for the extensive restoration seen today. The plantation is presently owned by the Malcolm E Jamieson family. The mansion is furnished with a magnificent

Also, once during a paranormal event there at the Carriage House, guests witnessed a doorknob rattling before the door opened a few inches when the group leader asked, "make your presence known".

through with adenocarcinoma that I crammed inside for a long time. Watching him take tons of meds, the chemotherapy, the immunotherapy and all the pain he went through. I felt helpless, pain, depression, and anger. I was there with my family when he got diagnosed at Georgetown University Hospital, taking time off from work each time he or family called when it got really bad just so I could be there, to the day before he passed when he felt like he kicked cancer's ass, all the way to the last time I kissed him and held his hand on his deathbed at the hospice room. All those feelings came back two days ago when I heard the news. I fell into a wormhole. All those feelings came rushing back. When

April 9th, Flumeri Promotions LLC will be in Goochland, VA at the abandoned Central High School! This was a sold out event that was scheduled earlier in the year, but was postponed due to weather. Because of the date change, we have ten tickets available as of right now! If you are interested in ghost hunting the former Central High School with RTL PARANORMAL and special guest investigator Mustafa Gatollari from the television show Ghost Hunters, tickets are available at <https://anc.apm.activecommunities.com/.../detail/4197...>!

I first talked to Chris about being with Flumeri Promotions, I instantly fell in love with the guy. The man loved everyone and everything about our community that we call the paranormal field. The first event I ever did with him was the Shanley Hotel in New York. I watched in awe as I watched him infect the guests that night with his loving personality. The way he taught the guests his craft and the passion that came forth when doing it not only amazed me but made me fall in love even more with the man we call "Coyote". The second event I did with him was Berkeley Plantation. And again, watched with happiness and amazement at how he captivated everyone's attention with his charm, experience, and

The Masonic Temple in Salina, Kansas is a monumental Classical Revival-style building completed in 1927. It was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 2000. It is 125 by 170 feet and is built of reinforced concrete. It is clad in limestone and marble. It was designed by Oklahoma City architect William T. Schmitt. Two years into its construction, the structure collapsed, and Schmitt was replaced by Isaac L. Zerbe of the firm Wilmarth & Zerbe, and "apparently the contractor freely consulted both plans in completing the construction." Famed musician John Phillip Sousa played during the dedication ceremony in 1927. The grand lobby of these seven floors, 160,000 square foot building contains marble slabs, split to reflect angel wings and the front doors are made of bronze. And if that didn't make "The Temple" intimidating enough, love for his craft. Our phone conversations were few, but each time I hung up the phone with him, he made me feel like I was family. The world lost an amazing man. And even though I knew him for a short time compared to others, you have no idea how much I will miss him.....

there are 122 hand-hammered copper gargoyles surrounding the building. As the years have gone by, The Temple still remains as the most iconic building in Salina. However, some people who have walked inside The Temple never left. The two most famous, or infamous residents of the building are “Top Hat Man” and “Zachary”. Top Hat Man is sometimes seen and heard in the upper balconies of the theatre, while the mischievous Zachary, who is believed to be a 5-year-old boy, has been known to untie and sometimes even cut shoelaces. There have been numerous unexplained happenings inside of the building. Things like doors opening and closing, voices and singing can be heard, and some have heard what appears to be the sound of an old-time AM radio frequency. Joining you in investigating The Temple that evening is two of the most respected paranormal investigators in the paranormal field, Daryl Martston and Mustafa Gatollari! Brandon Alvis and Mustafa were on A&E's Ghost Hunters and are the co-authors of their book ELEMENTS OF A HAUNTING. Assisting Flumeri Promotions that evening will be none other than Apex Paranormal!

About this event

HISTORY:

Rock Island, Illinois early days was thought of as something of a frontier town-a little too rough and tumble for the "nicer things". But, in the turn of the 20th century we see a lot of different buildings and entities coming to the community that are definite signs of it being a little more "refined". And for decades it offered railroad workers, soldiers, and other men a place to stay. The YMCA was built in 1912 and opened in 1913 and was a sign of Rock Island's development as a community. The YMCA is also a landmark because of the odd blend of architectural styles. The YMCA closed in the 1970s, and later was used by U-Haul until the mid 1990s when Vinar Furniture became the owner. As a local landmark, the YMCA gets most of its recognition for its historical importance. However, the YMCA also gets its recognition for what lurks inside the YMCA under the pale moonlight. It is said that the YMCA is haunted by its past.....

Clifton5 Theatre Huntingdon PA

PARANORMAL HISTORY:

It is said that long ago, a little boy drowned while playing in the pool, and that John Dickerson committed murder while staying at the YMCA. It is also said that gangster John Patrick Looney, a politician who turned gangster did a lot of illegal business inside the building. Some of the claims from others include footsteps, doors opening and closing by themselves, people witnessing shadows, disembodied voices, electronic voice phenomena, and a video that seems to have captured a shadow anomaly. Also, people have claimed to smell sulfur as well as women's perfume.

THE EVENT:

June 11th, join us in investigating the claims and experiences at the haunted Rock Island YMCA! But we will not be alone in doing so! Your special guest investigators for the evening are none other than psychic medium and author Maria Verdeschi, Melody Knapp from the television show Ghost Finders, and parapsychologist Kristen Luman from A&E's television show Ghost Hunters and Syfy's Ghost Mine! Also, we will have local paranormal celebrity Madison Smith there as well! For all paranormal enthusiasts and seasoned paranormal investigators who are interested in bringing their own equipment.....PLEASE DO!!! You will be split into groups with a group leader, and your group will investigate throughout the building and will have the opportunity to investigate with each paranormal celebrity.

EVENT INCLUDES:

- Doors open at 6PM for guests sign in
- Photo opportunities

- Q & A session

About this event

In the little town of Kosciusko, Mississippi, (with a town population of only 6,891), sits a building that has been around for almost seventy years. The Old Southern Funeral Home was constructed in 1954. And since its opening, (when it was originally called Woodall Funeral Home), Old Southern Funeral Home has had over 4,200 funeral services there before closing their doors in 2017. They say that funerals are where we pay our last respects to our loved ones before they travel to the afterlife. But do they? Many people who have investigated the funeral home (including funeral home staff before its closure) have said to have experienced something at the funeral home. Many reports of seeing dark shadows, doors opening and closing, disembodied voices, and EVPs (also known as electronic voice phenomena), and the feeling of being watched. The historic Attala has had a similar beginning as Old Southern Funeral Home. Built in 1957, the Attala Jail has seen many criminal offenders come and go through its doors until closing in 2017. Making it one of the oldest operating jails in Mississippi. Nowadays, it is known as one of the most haunted locations in the state! Attala Jail, also known as "The Halfway House", because Federal Agents who were transporting prisoners would stop there for the night before reaching their final destination. In 1957, a prisoner took his own life in one of the cells and since then, people have experienced odd things at the jail. Disembodied voices, noises, electronic voice phenomena, and even the apparition of a man in the dayroom of the jail that people believe to be the apparition of a former correctional officer. Joining you in investigating Old Southern Funeral Home & Attala Jail will be none other than Shannon M. Rogers, owner of Paranormal Explorations of America. Shannon began her journey in the Metaphysical world eleven years ago and discovering her love for the paranormal field three years ago. Not only is she the owner of Paranormal Explorations of America but is also the founder of her own paranormal group Grim Fatale Paranormal, owner of her own paranormal apothecary line, former co-host of a popular podcast show, has been featured on the season premiere of the paranormal television show A GHOST RUINED MY LIFE, and is the owner and president of Sirius Star Media & Productions. Accompanying her is Ray Savino. Ray is the founder of RTL PARANORMAL which is located in the Hampton Roads, Virginia area since 2009 and has well over 200 investigations under his belt. His group has investigated private homes, business, farms, and active military bases in Virginia, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and New York. He has investigated with many of today's most recognizable paranormal celebrities in the field. Such as, Daryl Marston, Mustafa Gatollari, Kristen Luman, and Joe Chin from the television show Ghost Finders. He is also the owner of Flumeri Promotions, a paranormal talent management company that also specializes in hosting their own public ghost hunting events throughout the United States. Although, he loves everything about the paranormal, his passion is in reviewing audio.
